

OUTLINE OF HIS POLICY

Is Expected When President-Elect Wilson Talks in Chicago.

WILL SPEAK BEFORE COMMERCIAL CLUB.

Special Police Arrangements Made to Prevent Guests' Annoyance.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—Governor Woodrow Wilson's visit to Chicago today was looked forward to with interest by members of the Commercial club, whose guest he will be while in the city. Inasmuch as the president-elect was expected to give some outline of the policy of his coming administration in his speech tonight.

Mr. Wilson's subject was announced as "The Future Business of the Country."

To avoid the annoyance of crowds it was planned to meet Governor Wilson's train at the Englewood station several miles from the city's center. President Clyde M. Carr, of the Commercial club, and David B. Jones prepared to escort their guest from the train directly to the residence of Mr. Jones on the north side where he will rest until time to go to the club banquet. Tomorrow Mr. Wilson will be a guest at the home of Mr. Carr until he leaves in the afternoon for his home.

Special precautions were taken by the city police to insure Mr. Wilson against any untoward annoyance while in Chicago. The police were to take part distinct from the secret service officers who were also prepared to be on the alert during the visit of the president-elect.

FIRST BREAK IN DEADLOCK

Over the Appointment Made by President Taft Came Today.

BOTH APPOINTMENTS WERE IN THE ARMY.

Action Was Followed by Morning Caucus of Democrats.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The first break in the deadlock over President Taft's appointments, pending in the senate, came today when at an executive session, Brigadier General James B. Aleshaire, was confirmed as a brigadier general. This action followed a morning caucus by the democrats but the lines are still so sharply drawn between republicans and democrats that no real negotiations are expected in the immediate future except on army and navy and diplomatic appointments.

LEAVE TO ISSUE BONDS.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—Permission to issue $10,000 in five per cent first mortgage bonds was granted to the Dayton, Covington and Piquette traction company by the state public service commission today.

NOTHING DONE BY THE MEDIATORS.

New York, Jan. 11.—After working 12 hours yesterday, Charles P. Neill and Martin A. Knapp, federal labor commissioner and president of the board of the commerce court respectively, resumed early today their efforts at mediation of the demands for increased wages and additional members made last May by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen upon the managers of fifty railroads east of Chicago, north of the Ohio river.

The mediators and both parties to the controversy alike declined today to discuss the negotiations.

HARMON MADE HIS LAST APPOINTMENT.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—Appointment of Alfred M. Cohen, of Cincinnati, president of the Ohio electoral college, to membership on the Ohio state board of uniform laws, for the term ending June 5, 1915, was the last official appointment made today by the retiring governor, Judson Harmon, of Cincinnati.

The vacancy was caused by the resignation of Benton H. Oppenheimer, of Cincinnati, who was appointed by Governor Harmon a judge of the superior court of Hamilton county.

WILL CAST THEIR VOTE NEXT MONDAY.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—The 24 members of the Ohio electoral college will meet in this city today and organize. On Monday the electoral college will reconvene and formally cast its total vote for Woodrow Wilson for president. Notification of the vote will then be sent to the United States court at Cincinnati and to Washington.

HENRY GEORGE IS ORDERED TO REST.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Representative Henry George Jr., of New York, probably will be forced to give up his legislative activities for some time because of his health, for he was ordered today by his physicians to take a long rest. It is said that he probably will go abroad, sailing for Palermo, Sicily, some time next week. Mr. George broke down from overwork.

KESH IS WANTED FOR EMBEZZLEMENT.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—Requisition upon the governor of New York for the extradition of H. W. Kish, wanted in Cincinnati on a charge of embezzlement, was issued today by Governor Harmon. Kish is under arrest at Buffalo and the warrant sworn to by the Ice-Hot Company, of Cincinnati, charges that he unlawfully took $40 of the firm's money. Police claim that reports are being received of many worthless checks and drafts passed by Kish are being received from various parts of the country.

COMMITTEES OF THE HOUSE

Augmented by Three New Groups Provided by Speaker.

WARNER OF HOLMES, CHAIRMAN OF ONE.

Other Chairmanships Have Not Yet Been Decided Upon.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—In addition to the regular standing committees of previous years, Speaker Swan has provided for three new committees for the house of representatives in the eightieth general assembly.

The new committees are to be the initiative and referendum, the conservation and the state betterment committees. Representative Warnes of Holmes county is scheduled for the chairmanship of the initiative and referendum committee, Representative Read of Summit for the head of the conservation committee, while the chairman of the state betterment committee has not been determined upon.

CONDEMNED CONDITIONS

That Exists in the Canning Camps, Did Miss Mary Boyle O'Reilly.

SPEECH BEFORE THE HOUSE COMMITTEE

Which is Considering Resolution Offered by an Ohio Man.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Labor and housing conditions among the workers in the canning camps of New York state were attacked today by Miss Mary Boyle O'Reilly, associate worker, before the house rules committee, considering a resolution by Representative Allen of Ohio, for the appointment of a special committee to investigate conditions in the fruit and vegetable canning industry throughout the country.

Miss O'Reilly said that she had spent a month as a worker in the canning camps of New York and after observing conditions had returned to them with F. C. Purdy, of the New York state department of labor. Mr. Purdy was on hand today to corroborate Miss O'Reilly's testimony. Miss O'Reilly produced a large number of photographs she had taken in the camps.

REDUCTIONS IN SCHEDULE

Which Affected the Metal Market Brought Out Witnesses.

INTERESTED IN BIG ENTERPRISES.

Many Millions Represented by Those Who Gave Their Testimony.

Washington, Jan. 11.—A phalanx of heads of big industries testified today on reductions in the metal schedule of the tariff before the house committee on ways and means. There were representatives of the tin plate, iron ore, jewelry, sewing machines, wire steel, pin, chair, thorite, gas mantle, steel pen and wood screw, textile machinery and hardware and other industries. Among the scheduled witnesses were John A. Topping, of New York, president of the Republic Iron and Steel Company; C. B. White, of Newark, N. J., president of the Chemical Refining Company; E. B. Crawford, of Pittsburgh, president of the McKeesport Plate Company; Henry R. Towne, of the American Hardware Company, at Stamford, Conn.; Windsor T. White, of Cleveland, for the White Sewing Machine; Thomas Niedringhaus, of St. Louis, for the National Enameling and Stamping Company; Alex P. White, of New York, vice president of the General Fire Proofing Company; Alex P. White, of New York, vice president of the General Fire Proofing Company; E. E. Spear, of Groton, Conn., president of the New London Ship and Engine Company; Richard W. Meade, president of the Fifth Avenue Coach Company, New York; S. P. Kerr, president of the Sharon, Pa., Steel Hoop Company, and K. G. Roebbling, of the John A. Roebbling Sons Company, of Trenton, N. J.

BLANKNERS ADMIRERS

Desire That He be Retained in His Former Position.

HAS BEEN IN OFFICE FIFTY-SIX YEARS.

Resolution Will be Introduced in Legislature Favoring Him.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—Friends of Colonel Fred Blankner, of Columbus, who for 56 years has been third assistant sergeant-at-arms of the house of representatives, are insistent that he still retain his position in the eightieth general assembly, and next week will introduce a resolution before the house providing that Colonel Blankner be retained in his former capacity for a part of the session at least.

When the democratic caucus of house members met at the beginning of the present session, Thurman Thompson, a democrat, also of the capital city, was selected for the position of their assistant sergeant-at-arms of the lower house. Colonel Blankner's friends then attempted to have the colonel retained, but failed.

An attempt also will be made when the legislature reconvenes next week to have several of the pages who served in the last legislature, retained for a part of the session, that they can assist the new pages in learning their duties.

BY KEROSENE ROUTE.

Steenbenville, O., Jan. 11.—Throwing kerosene on a drying fire to revive it, Mrs. Thomas McNeal, 40, was burned to death today.

FATALLY HIT BY CROWBAR.

Amherst, O., Jan. 11.—John Gresholtz, 47, was killed today when a flying crowbar knocked him off a ledge at the Ohio quarries. He fell 180 feet. A wife and eight children survive.

U. S. CONSUL LOVE DIED YESTERDAY.

Radio Aceda, Abyssinia, Jan. 11.—Guy Robert Love, United States vice and deputy consul general here since December 1908, died yesterday in his thirty-seventh year. He was a native of Coshocton, Ohio.

HOPE THE DEADLINE MAY BE MET

Chicago, Jan. 11.—Senator-elect Wilson arrived here today. He probably will be seen by his influence in breaking the deadlock in the Illinois legislature over the election of a speaker. Members of the different factions of the senate admitted that if the senate elect would speak on the subject, his words would have great effect with members of the Illinois assembly. Unless President-elect Wilson sends to act in the Illinois legislature, the leaders fear that it will continue indefinitely.

FIRST TIME IN SIXTY YEARS

That Ohio Has Cast Solid Electoral Vote for a Democrat.

ELECTORAL COLLEGE OF OHIO IN SESSION

Organization Effectuated and Actual Vote Will be Cast Monday.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—The Ohio electoral college convened in the governor's office at noon. Senator Alfred M. Cohen of Cincinnati, was elected president pro tem of the college. John W. Devaney of Cincinnati, was elected temporary secretary and W. K. Kue of Columbus, sergeant-at-arms.

Governor Harmon called the college to order. When the college met Monday evening's vote for Woodrow Wilson, it will be the first time in 60 years that Ohio has cast a solid electoral vote for a democratic candidate for president.

FESTIVITIES WILL BEGIN

With the Jackson Day Banquet Given This Evening.

HARMON WILL MEET GOVERNOR-ELECT

When the Latter Arrives From His Home in Dayton.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—Governor-elect James M. Cox will arrive in the capital city at the dinner hour this evening to begin the round of party attendant upon his inauguration next Monday in the state house rotunda.

Governor Judson Harmon will meet the governor-elect at the station when he arrives from his home in Dayton, and later in the evening will sit at his side at the annual Jackson day banquet to be held by local democrats in a local hotel.

Governor Harmon's subject at the banquet this evening will be "A Respect." Other speakers will be former Governor James E. Campbell, Lazard Kahn, of Hamilton, William L. Flinn, of Cincinnati, General Hogan, Congressman C. L. Brumbaugh, Secretary of State Charles H. Graves, Franklin Rubright and Mayor Karb. James Ross will be toastmaster.

SPEAKER'S FATHER DIED YESTERDAY.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—Announcement was made here today that the father of Speaker Charles L. Swain, of Cincinnati, is dead and that the speaker of the house of representatives will not return to Columbus until Monday in time for the short session of the legislature Monday morning.

ANOTHER MAN IS INVOLVED

In Trouble Over Giving of a Small Bribe to Doc. Nye.

FORMER OFFICIAL LIVING IN TOLEDO

Has Been Indicted and the Sheriff Has Gone After Him.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—Some time Saturday it is expected a lobbyist prominent in the affairs of legislatures for years, a resident of Toledo, a former state official, will be returned to Columbus under an indictment charging him with the giving of a bribe to Dr. George B. Nye, former representative from Pike county. This indictment was the net result of the grand jury investigation of last week, which closed with a report to Judge C. M. Rogers yesterday. It is also said to mark the end of investigation by Franklin county into the affairs of the last general assembly.

The indicted man was in Columbus Thursday and during the early part of the week mingling with legislators of the present general assembly. He has been a familiar character about the halls of the general assembly and was a witness before the grand jury investigating corruption in the last legislature. He did not testify before that body, however.

A deputy sheriff has been dispatched to Toledo.

SUBPOENA FOR MORGAN

To Appear Before the Shipping Trust Committee

AND TELL THEM WHAT HE KNOWS

About the Organization of the International Merchant Marine.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Chairman Alexander, of the house shipping trust investigating committee, announced today that a subpoena probably would be issued for J. P. Morgan, to have him tell the committee the details of the organization of the International Merchant Marine the American corporation owning and controlling a number of foreign steamship lines. Mr. Morgan is in Europe but Chairman Alexander said that his testimony would not be needed before the time set for his return.

Further light on rate conferences between steamship lines plying out of New York to South and Central America, South Africa and Australia was sought today by the house merchant marine committee from Paul Gotthell, president of the Funch-Edge Company. Mr. Gotthell, whose firm handles the freight business of a number of large lines told the committee yesterday that practically all of his companies had rate agreements with other lines plying to the same ports. Several other prominent shipping men were waiting to go on the stand and from whom the committee hoped to learn something about the rebates which witnesses have agreed probably are given in foreign countries on cargoes coming to the United States.

CAPTAIN HASTINGS OFFERED POSITION.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—Members of the state board of administration today offered the superintendency of the Ohio Industrial school at Lancaster to Captain R. U. Hastings, assistant superintendent of the Mansfield reformatory. The position is made vacant by the resignation of Major F. C. Gerlach.

COLLISON IS WANTED ON MURDER CHARGE.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—Governor Harmon today honored a requisition from the state of Colorado for the return of John Callison to that state for trial on a charge of murder. Callison who is under arrest at Akron, Ohio, is charged with the murder of Hazel Meek, at Greeley, Colo., on September 4, 1912.

GOVERNOR HARMON IS GOING ABROAD.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—Accompanied by Mrs. Harmon and his daughter, Mrs. Edmund Wright, Jr., Governor Harmon will sail from New York for the Mediterranean and other old world points on January 18.

The retiring governor spent his last day in the executive office at the state capitol today. He will give up his Columbus residence Tuesday and will go to Cincinnati to make preparations for the trip. The trip will last three months. Mr. Harmon's daughter, Mrs. George Cassatt, of London, England, will join them in Europe.

CONSTABLE WAS STABBED TO DEATH.

Denison, O., Jan. 11.—Four months ago Chester Parks, 28, constable of Holloway, arrested three Italians for violating the Sunday game laws. Last night three Italians surrounded him in a Denison saloon and stabbed him. It is said that the police think his assailants were the same men he arrested. A man is under arrest.

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT DISMISSED.

New York, Jan. 11.—The writ of habeas corpus in the case of Cipriano Castor, former president of Venezuela, was dismissed by Judge Holt in the United States district court today.

WEYBRECHT FEELS PROUD

Of the Members of the Ohio National Guard

WHO CONTRIBUTED TIME AND LABOR

To Restore Telegraph and Telephone Wires to Commission.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—Adjutant General Weybrecht, today received word from Toledo that members of the Ohio National Guard signal corps voluntarily offered their services to telegraph, telephone and railroad companies in Toledo last Tuesday in the restoration of wire service which was impaired as a result of the sleet storm and accomplished quick results. According to the report, 12 miles of wire for restoration of telegraph wires to Detroit was laid in two hours. The soldier boys also performed other services in restoring the impaired telegraph service, the report says.

"That speaks well for the efficiency of the signal corps of the Ohio National Guard," said General Weybrecht today. "The state should feel proud of the boys who donated their service."

DEADLOCK IS NOT BROKEN

And World Awaits the Fall of the Important Turkish Fortress.

BOTH RUMANIA AND BULGARIA

Anxious to Get Some of the Territory Surrounding Adrianople.

London, Jan. 11.—No sign of a loosening of the deadlock in the Balkan situation is yet in evidence. In the meantime the world awaits the fall of the long beleaguered fortress of Adrianople and is watching with close interest for the effect which the collective note is to be handed to Turkey by the ambassadors at Constantinople of the European powers will have on the Turkish government.

Waiting for Division After the Fall. Paris, Jan. 11.—The Matin London correspondent says that in an interview M. Jonereu, the Rumanian minister of the interior told him that today he would propose a conditional agreement on the subject under discussion with M. Danoff, namely that when the Bulgarians had come into possession of Adrianople and settled all differences with the Turks that Bulgaria cede to Rumania a part of the territory, the lines of which are to be agreed upon later.

WATSON MAY BE ELECTED

President of the United States Golf Association.

HAS BEEN SECRETARY FOR MANY YEARS.

Secretary Will be Jno. Reed of the St. Andrews Golf Club.

New York, Jan. 11.—The elevation of Robert C. Watson from the secretaryship to the presidency of the United States Golf association, and the election of John Reid, Jr., of the St. Andrews Golf club, secretary, was said to be assured by many of the delegates who arrived today for the annual meeting of the national governing body in golf. It was declared that there would undoubtedly be serious discussion of the power of the nominating committee to perpetuate itself but the fact that no opposition ticket had been named for the election of officers tonight led to the belief that this year's nominating committee at least would be supported.

Mr. Watson, a New Yorker, has been secretary of the association for four years and if elected president he will succeed Silas H. Strawn, of Chicago, who has been president for two years. For vice presidents the nominating committee has named Milton Dargan, of the Atlanta Athletic club, and Frank L. Woodward, of the Denver Country club; for treasurer, Perry E. Pyne, of the Garden City Golf club. A. Fellows Morgan was nominated for treasurer for the ninth time but declined.

With the election of officers disposed of the chief interest in the meeting will be left to the assignment of courses and dates for the three national championships, the amateur, the open, and the women's title.

FULLINGTON WILL RETIRE

Next Monday From the Office of Auditor of State.

WILL BE PRESIDENT OF BIG COMPANY

Organized in Cleveland; Will Continue to Live in Columbus.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—State examiners of the bureau of public accounting, under supervision of the auditor of state today filed their reports with Auditor of State E. M. Fullington and made their final accounting. The examiners then reported to Auditor-elect Victor Donahy who will assume charge of the office, succeeding Mr. Fullington, Monday.

Mr. Fullington will complete his work as auditor today, formally relinquishing charge of the office on Monday. He then will assume the duties of the presidency of the Republic Casualty Company, of Cleveland. He probably will reside in this city.

INSURANCE RATES.

London, Jan. 11.—The White Star line today began to insure its fleet against loss for the ensuing year. The rates charged prior to the Titanic disaster have been nearly doubled.

APPLICATION DISMISSED.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—The application of Grace Brown Guggenheim to have her divorce from William Guggenheim annulled, was dismissed by Judge Heard here today for want of equity.

STOCK KILLED IN A DISASTROUS WRECK.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 11.—Two hundred sheep and hogs were killed in a wreck in the Lake Shore railroad yards here today. In the fog a west-bound train of ten cars loaded with the livestock, backed into a dead string of forty cars loaded with coal and oil. The fatalities followed. Two hundred other sheep and hogs freed from custody by the accident, roamed through the yards for hours before they were recovered.

AMUSEMENTS.

AT THE FAUROT.
Tonight—"Officer 666."
Sunday Afternoon and Night—
Motion Pictures.
Five Days, Starting Monday Matinee—

Saturday Matinee and Night—
"The Balkan Princess."

AT THE ORPHEUM.

AT THE LYRIC.
All Week—Barrett Players in Repertoire.

The most irresistible "Peeler" that ever swung a night stick, in a better detective play than ever come out of France is "Officer 666," which Cohan and Harris presented for the first time in Lima this afternoon to a large audience.

Every one to whom the drama appeals should see this splendid play, for it combines more thrills and more laughs in its two and one-half hours than the most devoted theatre-goer ever dreamed could be compressed into the action of one comedy.

"Officer 666" is a melodrama farce with a plot of shivers and smiles that is shot out with a rapidity of a Hotchkiss field piece storing an enemy's entrenchment. And the audience it attracts! My goodness, how they do enjoy it! This afternoon the matinee girls were intensely interested in the handsome picture pinner, who, they hoped, would get away with the swag, and when that prince of scamps was finally caught, they voted him the dearest villain that ever had his thumb prints photographed.

Messrs. Cohan and Harris have provided the play with a capital cast and the scenic invention is entirely in keeping with their past reputation in this respect.

"Officer 666" is again on duty at the Faurot tonight and he will provide you with one of the merriest and most exciting evenings that you have ever had.

The past week has been a red letter one in the history of the local theatrical season, and was in marked contrast to the usual weeks of lethargy that has characterized the season of 1912-1913. Every attraction was a to the standard claimed for it, and there was not a single performance during the entire week that was not deserving of liberal patronage.

Monday evening, Henry W. Savage sent his best company of "Excess Me" to this city, and it was amply proven that this delightful little Pullman farce did not wear out its welcome in one visit to this city. An audience fully as large as the one that witnessed the play last season was in the house when the curtain arose on the first act, and there was no mistaking the attitude of the crowd toward this pleasing farce as it filled out of the theatre at the close of the show. The piece was presented by a capable company, and pleased immensely.

"Baby Mine" playing its second visit, was the only attraction during the week that played to small business, and this was doubtless due to the fact that it was sandwiched in a week suffruted with good attractions. "Those who were there laughed until their sides ached at the amusing situations and ludicrous predicaments created by Margaret Mayo over the substitution of a real baby for one that did not exist, and interpreted by a most competent company.

James T. Powers and "Two Little Brides" drew a large house Thursday evening, and those who witnessed the performance heard a clever array of principals "ring the most tuneful and melodious operetta heard here since the performance of "The Merry Widow" several years ago. Powers had the best vehicle in his entire career, and the Messrs. Shubert surrounded him with the most beautiful and talented collection of principals and chorus singers that have appeared here in many moons.

The audience that heard the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra in concert at the Faurot last evening was limited by the seating capacity of the theatre, and the concert was voted an artistic and financial success. The concert was given under the auspices of the Women's Music Club of Lima, which realized handsomely from the venture.

Judging from the advance sale for this evening, "Officer 666" will round out a notable week in theatrical circles with a capacity house. Its past successes insure it a warm welcome here.

Success continues to crown the efforts of the Barrett Players at the Lyric theatre, and the past week was no exception to the profitable weeks that the company has enjoyed since early last fall. "Girls," one of Clyde Fitch's last plays, was given a hearty reception, and every performance drew a crowded house.

The management will continue its policy of offering one lavish production each week, and for the first three days of next week, will offer the greatest play by Harley Mann, "The House Next Door," in which J. E. Dodson starred from coast to coast two seasons ago. Dodson and his company played a single engagement at the Faurot that season, and the play scored a big hit. It will be the first time that it has been given in Lima at popular prices.

The shows at the Orpheum during the past week were far above the average, especially during the early part of the week, and as a result a good week's business was hunked up at that theatre. The Orpheum still enjoys a large clientele, and fills its niche in the local theatrical world.

Dainty Mae La Porte and her aggregation of repertoire performers will open their annual engagement at the Faurot with Monday's matinee, and two performances will be given daily until Friday evening. This little stock star has a number of admirers in the city, and will no doubt play to good business during her engagement.

Young girls, pretty girls, girls who can sing and dance are to play a big part in the production of the comic opera success, "The Balkan Princess," which comes to the Faurot next Saturday. The chorus has been chosen from more than three hundred applicants, a fact which disproves the oft-repeated statement that there is a dearth of chorus girls. In "The Balkan Princess," the chorus plays an active part rather than the pictorial background for which it is generally employed.

There is only one company playing "The Balkan Princess," so Lima theatre-goers can be assured that they are seeing the real article.

On Friday and Saturday, January 24th and 25th, three performances of "The Light Eternal" will be given at the Faurot Opera House—making a total of ten times this popular play has been given to Lima since New Year's day of last year. No offering of recent years has made such a broad appeal to local theatre-goers, and no other play has been so universally commended.

It is a striking fact that following the first engagement of "The Light Eternal," one could hear the played discussed in every quarter of the city and among all classes of people—and in every case only the highest praise was heard.

The present company will be the same as on the two previous visits—including Miss Louis Dunbar, John Milton, Aaron W. Honey, Charles Lockins and other equally as well known. Frank Jones, formerly of Our Own Stock Company, is also a member of the cast this year. Honey is a native of Wapakoneta, and is well known in this city.

One of the biggest hits that the Princess theatre, of Chicago, for years has had, and that theatre is known as the "House of Hits," will be seen at the Faurot soon. The play is known as "The Heart Breakers," and is under the management of Mort H. Singer.

In putting on this successful musical play, Manager Singer has spared no expense, and handsome costumes set off by stunning snow girls, gorgeous scenery, and intricate electrical effects abound. The cast is headed by George Damerel for the past five years leading man in "The Merry Widow." Mr. Damerel plays the leader of a band of boon companions who have sworn eternal singleness, and have united to have revenge on every heart breaker. In the end the leader meets his "Waterloo" in the person of the "Girl" and renounces his bachelorhood thereby breaking up the club. The piece is in two acts

John E. Young is playing Dondidier with the Klaw and Erlanger company now touring the country in their great hit "The Pink Lady," which is booked for an early appearance in this city. Mr. Young is a member of the original cast, having created the part of Bebe with the company that brought out this decided hit in Atlantic City before it was taken to New York, where it remained for over 400 performances. Mr. Young had his choice of remaining with that company and going to London or staying in America and playing Dondidier, and he wisely chose to enact the big comedy role in this country. Mr. Young played all through the west with many of the big Chicago musical hits that were the vogue several seasons back and will be a welcome visitor with this organization.

Premieres this week in New York City this week include the following: Belasco's production of "Joseph and His Brethren," by Louis N. Parker, with Brandon Tynan, James O'Neill, Pauline Frederick, and others in the cast. "A Good Little Devil," by the wife and son of Edmond Rostand, also produced by Belasco; Eugene Walters' last play, "Fine Feathers," in which Lolita Robertson will be introduced to a New York audience as a leading lady for the first time; the play to be produced by H. H. Frazee; Henry Miller offered Laura Hope Crews and H. B. Warner in "Blackbirds" for the first time last Monday evening; and a new dancing creation in which Miss Adeline Genes will be featured. Fortunes are staked on these premieres, many of which no doubt will be tried and found wanting.

"The Girl of My Dreams" seen here earlier in the season, packed the Ford theatre at Baltimore all last week in spite of the fact that it had been seen there before.

Louis Mann is now appearing at the Chicago Opera House in "Elevating a Husband." The piece played a single engagement at the Faurot last season.

Eva Tanquar, the greatest star of the two-day, begun a two weeks' engagement at the Colonial theatre in New York last Monday. She will make a tour of the Keith houses.

THE FAUROT'S PICTURES.

A motion picture program of unusual excellence will be offered at the Faurot Saturday afternoon and night. First in importance is the Animated Weekly, the most famous film in the world. This week's series will show the conference between President-elect Wilson and William Jennings Bryan, the launching of the torpedo destroyer "Bulch" at Philadelphia, the kind of England inspecting troops at Welbeck, scenes in Tangiers, winter sports in Norway, the latest Parisian models in evening gowns and opera wraps, the Shriner's parade at Baltimore, war vessels at Constantinople a pie eating contest in Denver and that interesting novelty, "prao's Who in Stagland," with inmate views of Clifton Crawford. Other fine films are two comedies "Her Kid Sister" and "Jones' Resurrected" and a magnificent two-reel "Bison. 101" feature, "At War."

MAE LA PORTE.

With a repertoire of plays that are practically all new and a company of exceptional ability, that charming little star, Mae La Porte, comes back to the Faurot next Monday for an engagement that is limited to but five days. They will be five happy days, however, for those who remember the excellent impression Miss La Porte made here last season, for it is safe to say they will not miss a single performance.

Miss La Porte opens her engagement on Monday afternoon with a charming comedy drama, entitled, "When Hearts are Young" and on that evening will present her newest play, "The Open Window." During the week she will offer such other admirable bills as "The Awakening of Ruth," "That Girl Nora," "Dor-

"THE BALKAN PRINCESS." The attraction at the Faurot next Saturday afternoon and night will be Samuel E. Rork's production of the musical success, "The Balkan Princess," and promises to be the real gem of the season's booking. The story of "The Balkan Princess" with the delightful music by Pat

AT THE FAUROT TONIGHT.

Rubens, makes it one of the most enjoyable musical comedies that has ever been imported to this country. The scenes, three in number, are laid in the mythical Balkan state of Balaria. Princess Stephanie is about to ascend the throne when it is discovered that she must marry. The six grand dukes of the realm are commanded to appear before her and seek her hand. She rejects the five who appear. The sixth, Grand Duke Sergius, refuses to respond and the princess determines to seek him out. She discovers that he frequents the Bohemian restaurant on the outskirts of the kingdom, incognito she goes to the restaurant. The duke, of course, does not know who the pretty stranger is or else he would not propose to her. She develops that Sergius is opposed to Stephanie ascending the throne and he frequently writes seditious articles for the daily press. Therefore when he proposes a toast to the downfall of the princess, she discloses her identity and orders his arrest. He is taken a prisoner to the castle, where he doubtless would have remained for some time had the princess not relented. Then, seeing that she really loves him, the two youthful royalists agree to ascend the throne. The advance sale of seats opens next Friday morning. Mail orders will be filled in the order of their receipt.

ORPHEUM THEATRE.

Another fine show will open at the Orpheum Monday, matinee, Jan. 13. Headed by one of the finest singing acts in Yandeville Mae, Marie and Marion, known as the Singers De-Lux. The trio also carries a special scenic production. Fisher and companion, bicyclists, is another high class act and one that is bound to please Lima theatre goers. Hermy and Harrison, known as the dainty little Singers, Talking and Dancing Duo comes direct from the big line, will also act. Pierce and Knoll will present a comedy sketch. Mr. Pierce is one of those comedians that does not tire you and Miss Knoll has a sweet soprano voice which has won her many admirers in the comic opera field.

The Kinemacolor Photo Play for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday is a two reel subject entitled "East and West" and is considered one of the best pictures ever produced by the Kinemacolor company.

Matinees daily 2:30 p. m. All seats 10c.

LYRIC THEATRE.

Tonight is the last opportunity of seeing the Barrett Players in their excellent play, "Under the Bear's Paw" at the Lyric theatre. This play is one you will highly enjoy as it tells a very pretty story of life, which is finely acted by this popular company. For the first 3 days of next week the Barrett Players will present the high class royalty play, by J. Hartley Manners, "The House Next Door." Order seats at once for Monday night. Last performance of "Under the Bear's Paw" tonight at 8:15.

WHISKERS WOUNDED ADMIRAL'S FEELING

Washington, Jan. 11.—When "Whiskers" the belligerent billy goat of the battleship New Hampshire, butted Rear Admiral Doyle on board the ship off the coast of Virginia, he also butted that officer into an investigation at the hands of the navy department. While suffering from wounded feelings and sundry contusions the admiral ordered all pets and mascots from off the war vessel under his jurisdiction. The department now wants an official report of the order and the reasons therefor from Admiral Doyle, who is commandant of the Norfolk navy yard. Navy department officials are inclined to sympathize with the sailors, for the mascots aboardships do little harm and go a long way toward keeping the men contented.

BEATING A BOARD BILL

Is Charge Preferred Against Fitzpatrick by William Putman.

POLICE MAKE OTHER CHARGES.

Two Drunks, Both Repeaters, Fined in Police Court Today.

Upon the complaint of W. Putman, who conducts a boarding and rooming house on south Jackson street, S. M. Fitzpatrick, a pressman employed at a local printing office, was placed under arrest by the police this morning on a charge of beating a board bill. Putman secured an affidavit against Fitzpatrick at Mayor Shook's office this morning, and later added the police in locating the accused man.

Putman claims that Fitzpatrick owes him a considerable amount of money for board and room, which he refuses to pay. He also offered the information that he was keeping company with a young married woman in the city, and is intent upon breaking up a home. The complainant told the mayor that he was prompted in causing his arrest more by this fact than because the man was indebted to him.

Police claim that Fitzpatrick was in the company of the woman at the time of his arrest. He has been arrested several times before for drunkenness. He will have a hearing before Mayor Shook, Monday morning. In the meantime, he languishes in the city prison.

Two Drunks. Two drunks, both repeaters, were brought before Mayor Shook in police court to answer to a charge of violating the city ordinance. They registered as Jack O. 'ell and Sweet Johnson, although it developed this morning that the latter's real name was Charles Evans. Both pleaded guilty and were fined $5 and costs each.

Persons troubled with partial paralysis are often very much benefited by massaging the affected parts thoroughly when applying Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment also relieves rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.

CONCESSIONS MADE TO WORKING GIRLS.

Elyria, Ohio, Jan. 11.—One hundred and twenty-five girls who went on strike at the plant of the Fay Stocking Company here last Monday returned to work today having won all their demands.

The company promises better sanitary conditions, substitution of new machinery for old and the abolishment of a fine of 15 cents imposed for the spilling of four stockings in a dozen by dropped stitches. The girls claimed that because of the condition of the machinery they could not avoid drop stitches.

The Proof That Times-Democrat Readers Cannot Deny.

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Enos G. Conner, 54 Public Square, Lima, Ohio, says: "Since giving my first public endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills, I have only to say that time has not altered my high opinion of them. I sincerely believe that anyone who is afflicted with kidney complaint can find no other remedy that goes to the seat of the trouble, removing it as quickly as Doan's Kidney Pills. You may continue to publish my former endorsements of this remedy, as I have had no recurrence of kidney trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Mrs. A. E. Sims, of west Wayne street, will entertain the Entre Nous club, afternoon.

The Social and Literary club meets with Mrs. Earl Armstrong, of north Pine street, afternoon.

Friday.

Mrs. H. B. English, of south Main street, will entertain the Colloquium club, afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mackenzie, of west Market street, will entertain the T. and T. club, evening.

Mrs. O. S. June will be hostess for the Tutorium circle, afternoon.

With the advent of the new year, it is good to reflect upon the past 12 months and take a perspective view of the incoming year. Great affairs have been crowded into the season prior to January and the late winter and spring will see no such beautiful affairs as have dominated the social calendar in the past quarter of the year.

Intimate parties and interesting matters that absorb the attention of women, brushed aside by the whirl of engagements that made up the holiday festivities, will now be enjoyed more than ever. No gayer season nor one more fascinating, has ever been passed in Lima.

Society will for a time be content to rest upon its laurels. Lent looms large on February 5th, and with the prospect of donning its sack-cloth and ashes in the east or in Florida, the coming month will be given over by many Lima women to the preparation of their wardrobe for use after Lent.

Study classes and philanthropic interests will prevail, these being most dear to the hearts of the Lima women who grace the smart world.

Mrs. M. Cokely, of north Metcalf street, gave one of the largest and most brilliant functions of the week in society, when on Wednesday afternoon, she entertained members of the Ancient club and a large company of other friends. The club numbers about a dozen members and Mrs. Cokely had extended her hospitality to include about thirty other ladies. Throughout the rooms of the lovely Cokely home, pink and white carnations were used lavishly in decoration. Great bouquets of the fragrant flowers were placed at vantage points and the spring blooms in the inside, gave little reference to the cold of the outside world.

The mantle was banked in carnations and ferns and formed a pleasing contrast to the hall, which was in holiday decorations of red and green, with great bows of tulle to further enhance the cheerful scene. Parlor, living room and library gave way to the deft use of carnations and ferns.

Seven tables were filled for six-hand euchre. At the close of the game, it was found the successful players in the club were Mrs. Geo. Taylor, who received a hand-painted salad bowl; Mrs. E. M. Gooding among the guests, who received several hand-embroidered handkerchiefs. Mrs. Oliver Steiner received the consolation prize, a pretty book.

The little tables were cleared, supplied with snowy lunch cloths and from these the ladies who had played during the afternoon had the privilege of enjoying luncheon together. The following delicious menu was served:

Escalloped Chicken
Mushroom Patties
Creamed Potatoes
Parker House Rolls
Fruit Gelatine
Date Pudding with Whipped Cream
Coffee

Nuts
Assisting Mrs. Cokely throughout the rooms were Mrs. Guy Kendrick and Mrs. Fred Beam. The luncheon was served by Misses Irene O'Connor, Lillian Mulligan and Sadie MacDonald, all prettily gowned.

Enjoying Mrs. Cokely's hospitality were Mrs. W. T. Agter, Mrs. Paul Agter, Mrs. Harriet Bates, Mrs. Henry Deisel, Mrs. T. J. Edwards, Mrs. Hallie R. Hoover, Mrs. Fred Herald, Mrs. Wallace Landis, Mrs. Frank H. Downing, Mrs. E. W. Hillyard, Mrs. J. B. Kerr, Mrs. E. W. Mosler, Mrs. John Lutz, Mrs. M. Sealts, Mrs. Clinton Sealts, Mrs. Henry Wemmer, Mrs. William Wemmer, Mrs. E. N. Zeilitz, Mrs. Leroy Hume, Mrs. Frank Moke, Mrs. Hubbard, Mrs. R. D. Kahle, Mrs. W. H. Jones, Mrs. W. H. Hay, Mrs. Clara Brotherton, Mrs. O. W. Bell, Mrs. S. D. Downing, Mrs. Allen Patterson, Mrs. D. Downing.

Mrs. George Taylor, Miss Anna Taylor, Miss Lillian Taylor, Mrs. William Stewart, Mrs. W. A. Campbell, Mrs. E. M. Gooding, Mrs. A. L. White, Mrs. D. H. Sullivan, Mrs. Minnie Henderson, Mrs. Frank Eaton, Mrs. J. B. Vail, Mrs. Harry Lamberton, Mrs. P. E. Thompson, Mrs. Ira Carney, Mrs. Kinnear, Mrs. Perry Collins and Mrs. Oliver Steiner.

Mrs. D. S. Kemp, of west Market street, was hostess for the Twentieth Century club, Monday evening, when the members resumed their meetings after the holiday period of vacation. There was not such a large representation of the ladies present, but all enjoyed a most delightful evening in sharing the genuine hospitality extended by Mrs. Kemp. The roll was called and in response, Chinese customs were told of, bringing out some information of great interest. Mrs. M. U. Basinger gave a paper on "The Civilization of Ancient China and Her Religion." She dealt with the Mohammedan religion of the Chinese in the form of Buddhism, Confucism and Taoism.

In her paper on "China's Political Geography," Mrs. M. L. Becker told of the situation in the eastern country at the present time and gave out many new facts concerning the country and its government.

The help which the club afforded to two families for Christmas was discussed and the good thereof fully reckoned. In one of these families are seven or eight children and four in the other. Nearly an automobile filled with things for their enjoyment was donated by the Twentieth Century club members. So great was the pleasure afforded that the club will likely take up similar work next year.

The social half-hour was further enhanced by the serving of light refreshments by Mrs. Kemp. The meeting Monday evening will be with Mrs. William Stewart, of 625 west North street.

At a meeting of the Christian Endeavor society of the Market Street Presbyterian church, Tuesday evening, officers were installed for the coming term. The following will serve: Miss Jean Stevas, president; Mr. Glen Crumrine, vice president; Miss Bessie Greenland, secretary; Mr. Everett Griffiths, treasurer; Miss Ethel Simpson, corresponding secretary. The society has arranged for special work the remainder of the winter and coming spring season.

With the subject of prayer for the inspiration, the members of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Missionary society seemed to be imbued with the baptism, following the meeting held Wednesday afternoon at the church parlors. The program was considered one of the best in the history of the society. Trinity quartette, composed of Mrs. E. G. Conner, Mrs. J. H. Baker, Mrs. R. D. Kahle and Mrs. R. H. Ebersole, furnished two beautiful musical numbers. Mrs. W. L. Watt was hostess.

Mrs. George Myers conducted the devotions and Mrs. McClure told of "The Place of Prayer in Missionary Work." Mrs. A. K. Hall gave stories regarding instances where prayer had been answered and Mrs. Moore told of "The Third Prayer, The Final Refuge." Mrs. Enslin discussed "Prayer for Definite Objects." Mrs. Darby read a paper on "Which Mite Box is Yours?"

The ladies decided that from now until August, when the mite boxes are collected and opened, every penny coming within their hands will be dropped into the little box, to start on its good work for missionary purposes. The attendance was large, the church parlors being well filled with members and their friends.

Mrs. H. B. English, of 621 south Main street, will entertain the Colloquium club at her home, Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Earl Armstrong, of 410 north Pine street, will entertain the Social and Literary club, Thursday afternoon, at her home.

The Congregational circle will hold the postponed meeting Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. A. S. Bower, of west North street.

Mrs. J. E. Ritchie, of 333 north West street, will entertain the Wimodaghsis circle, Thursday afternoon, at her home.

Mrs. A. E. Sims, of 1628 west Wayne street, will be hostess for the Entre Nous club, Thursday afternoon, entertaining at her home.

Mrs. R. H. Peck, of 715 west Elm street, will be hostess for the Ideal club, Wednesday afternoon, the meeting having been changed from Thursday.

The Glee club from the Ohio State University will likely be one of the attractions which will visit Lima while making a tour of the cities of Ohio. Mr. Ralph Monson, a Lima young man, is solo violinist with the Glee club. Should the organization visit Lima, it will arouse much interest, owing to the fact the Ohio State is the alma mater of many Lima college people. The Glee club will start upon its tour within a few weeks.

Miss Helen Kerr was the charming hostess Tuesday evening at a dinner of handsome appointments at the Elks home, when she paid a delightful compliment to her guest, Miss Florence Cushman, of Detroit, Mich., who is her room-mate at Mount Vernon seminary in Washington. The guests, numbering twenty-four, were seated at two large tables, which had for center decoration, a large basket of crimson roses. Enjoying Miss Kerr's hospitality were Miss Cushman, Miss Lillian Deisel, Miss Pauline Wemmer, Miss Alice Wright, Miss Nora Sprague, Miss Imogene Shook, Miss Margaret Sealts, Miss Edna Neely and guest, Miss Refner, of Winfield, Kansas, Mr. and Mrs. Bransom Harley Holmes and their guest, Miss Sheets, of Norristown, Pa., Mr. Homer Hughes, Mr. Seward Folsom, Mr. Ralph Mackenzie, Mr. Wallace Kink, Mr. Fred Gooding, Mr. Frank Hawkins, Mr. Wattle, Mr. Brice Selfridge, Mr. Clark Bennett, Mr. Lawrence Barr and Mr. Frank Carrig, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. F. T. Campbell, of south Court street, has returned from a delightful visit with the family of her son, Mr. Murray Adrian Campbell, of Des Moines, Ia.

One of the delightful things anticipated musically will be the concert which the high school orchestra will give within the next few weeks. Music has been purchased from the fund secured by the production of the operetta, "Sylvia," and Prof. Fred Calvert has in charge the training of the orchestra, which includes about fifteen pieces.

Mrs. Charles Voris, of east Elm street, opened her home Wednesday afternoon for the meeting of the Missionary society of the First United Brethren church. Mrs. McCahren led the devotions, following the opening song. Mrs. Jones gave an interesting reading and Mrs. J. B. Bovey, wife of the pastor, favored the society with a splendid solo. Mrs. Charles Grady was in charge of the lesson. The society resolved to place the work of missions more forcibly before the children of the Sunday school. Mrs. Voris had as guests Miss Lydia Vanatta and Mrs. Botkins. Nineteen members attended the gathering. Punch and wafers were served at the close of the program.

Mrs. J. R. Melly, of south Jameson avenue, early in the week issued invitations for a luncheon for Wednesday, complimenting Mrs. Fletcher, of Los Angeles. Owing to the sudden going-away of her uncle, Mr. George A. Heffner, Mrs. Melly was compelled to recall cards for her luncheon.

Miss Abbie Price gave a delightful little tea, Saturday afternoon, entertaining twelve of the friends of Miss Anne Furnas. Each young lady hemmed a napkin for the popular bride-to-be and the same will go to make up the linen chest of her new home, to which will be attached precious memories of the little social affair. Pink and white sweet peas were used in the decorations, into which had been woven a trace of greenery. Guests were Misses Furnas, Forester Ireland, Edith Simpson, Marie Robinson, Ethel Cable, Fannie Hughes, Inga Johnson and Yvonne Ebersole. Mrs. Everett Furnas, Mrs. Robert Horn and her guest, Miss Selzer of Marion, Ohio.

Mrs. Henry F. Reel, secretary of the Round Table, delightfully entertained the club Monday afternoon. Although the attendance was not large, an interesting meeting was held. This was the first session since the holiday recess. Roll call was responded to by current events. Mrs. George Simpson led the magazine lesson and Mrs. George Robinson the history lesson. There was no guests but the ladies enjoyed a pleasant social half hour over coffee and cakes.

Mrs. Charles F. Price and daughter, Eleanor, are again at their home in Lima, after a pleasant visit with relatives in Indianapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Michael will leave about the twenty-fifth of the month for Los Angeles, Calif., expecting to be absent from Lima for a period of three months. En route home they will tour the west and southwest, expecting to pass the remainder of the winter under sunny skies.

Mrs. George Hall will leave shortly for Washington Court House, where she will be installing officer for circles of the Ladies of the Grand Army. Mrs. Hall is state inspector and it will add much to the interest taken in these circles to have the inspector for installing officer. Mrs. Hall will also serve at Lorain and Harrod, in a life capacity. New Year's night she installed officers at North Baltimore, a banquet following the work. Mrs. Hall has returned to her home in Lima, after a pleasant stay among circles of the state, where she is always warmly welcomed and many social arrangements are planned for her.

Mrs. Josephine Armstrong, of 316 north Pine street, was hostess for the Woman's Missionary society of Calvary Reformed church, entertaining at her home Wednesday afternoon.

Owing to the illness of Madame Wakefield, who takes such a prominent part in the meetings of the Lotus-Arbutus club, no meetings have yet been decided upon. Madame Wakefield is recovering nicely, however.

Mrs. Shaw, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, and Mrs. Winchester, of London, O., both of whom are well known in Lima, are the guests of Mrs. I. S. Motter, at her home on west Spring street.

Lima's natural beauties were inestimably enhanced by the wonder workings of an artist superior to the greatest of the world's masters, during the sleet of Tuesday and notwithstanding damage amounting to hundreds of dollars was wrought by the ice.

The marvellous transformation of the city was discerned in the awakening Tuesday morning to find Lima a crystal city, garished with a veneer of transparent loveliness unsurpassed in beauty, no matter how lavish the attempt by mortals.

Long parallel rows of trees, unobscured in their inanimate wood-brown, were gracefully bending and swaying avenues of sparkling white. Highways were hidden beneath a light coating of crystal that left only hints of distinguishing outlines. Buildings, old and new, were arrayed in the same glittering icy coat that comprised the cardinal element in the transformer's artful scheme.

The transformation was appealing in its own riotousness. Its beauty was enhanced by its own weight. It showed God in nature and no lover of art could conceive of a picture half so beautiful. Until the returning sunshine began its woefully prompt work, true lovers of nature enjoyed the rare beauty.

Owing to the absence of Mrs. Luah M. Butler out of the city, Miss Mank, who is in charge, has arranged with Mrs. J. S. Nelson of this city, to give a lesson in the art of special candy making at the Business Woman's club, Tuesday evening. This is given in lieu of the cooking lesson, of which class Mrs. Butler is at the head. The session will begin promptly at seven o'clock.

The Woman's club will hold no meeting Monday, but will meet on Monday afternoon, January 27, with Mrs. H. A. Holdridge, at which time the program of both the thirteenth and twenty-seventh will be given.

Miss Pearl Jackson, of Sandusky, is visiting her mother, Mrs. J. P. Jackson, of south Main street. Miss Jackson, who has a mezzo-soprano voice of beauty, is a member of the quartette, which furnishes music in one of Sandusky's leading churches. Miss Jackson will sing at the regular meeting of the Women's Music club next Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Luah M. Butler has gone to Columbus to remain until the middle of the week for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. W. H. Barkalow, of west North street, is visiting with friends in Toledo.

Mrs. Paul Ashton was hostess at an informal afternoon Thursday, complimenting Miss Furnas. Twelve young ladies enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Ashton. Each of the guests monogrammed a towel for the honor guest and at five o'clock, tea was served.

Mrs. V. L. Buchanan, of east Eureka street, was hostess for the Kappa circle, Tuesday afternoon. Eight members were present, with an absence of four recorded. Three guests were also privileged to attend. They were Mrs. W. S. Trockmorton, Mrs. C. S. Ferguson and Mrs. J. R. Greiner. The hours were spent in needlework and at the close of the afternoon sandwiches, pickles, cream and coffee was served. Mrs. J. W. Blackburn, of west Spring street, will entertain the club in a fortnight.

This afternoon, Miss Inga Johnson and Miss Marguerite Heller, of Beaverdam, are giving an informal social affair at the home of Miss Johnson, of west Market street, as a courtesy to Miss Furnas, a bride-to-be of the month.

Dr. and Mrs. J. K. Danner entertained very informally at dinner, Monday evening, complimenting Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Fletcher, of Los Angeles. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Hotchkiss and Rev. and Mrs. Franklin Stiles.

Mrs. E. E. Shaffer, of north West street, entertained the C. C. club, Thursday at her home. The ladies always go in time to enjoy dinner at the noon hour. A delicious five-course menu was served, the long table being handsomely decorated in white and green. The club meets monthly and Mrs. M. O. Allen will be hostess for February. The afternoon hours were passed with needlework.

A party of Columbus Grove people who came over for the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra concert last evening included Mr. and Mrs. George W. Gore and Mrs. George E. Jones. Mr. and Mrs. James L. Tither, Mrs. L. Kohr, Mrs. L. C. Mullen, Mr. Harry F. Busche, Misses Edith R. Jones and Margaret Busche and Mr. Eugene Gore.

Friends of Mr. H. F. Dicke, formerly superintendent of the Ohio Electric Railway company and who, while in the city, resided at the home of Mr. H. R. Hoover, of 122 north West street, will be glad to know that information received from him Friday, tells of his recovery, sufficient to leave the hospital, having sought the cure on account of illness in a hotel in Boise City, Idaho. At no time was Mr. Dicke's condition dangerous. He is vice president and general manager of the Idaho Traction company of Boise City.

The Chionian club will meet Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Fenner, of 1125 west Spring street, at which time a special program will be given, the evening to include toward life more genuine; less be one of social importance. Flowing money will be wasted in improper frocks, dress will not be subject to sponsor to roll call and members of the second division will furnish the program.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Daymon, of 337 south Atlantic avenue, entertained the Ramblers' Card club, Wednesday evening. Pink and white carnations were used throughout the various rooms in the decorations, and upon the entrance of the members, ladies were favored with a pink carnation and the gentlemen were given the white flowers. Miss Moses presided at the piano, furnishing some splendid music. Pink and white streamers from the corners of the room were attached to the chandeliers, adding to the attractive scene. The score cards were hand-painted carnations and the napkins and lunch cloths bore traces of the carnation in their make up. Mrs. E. G. Atkinson secured the ladies' prize, a hand-embroidered shirt waist of linen, and Mr. C. C. Miller secured the gentlemen's prize. Mrs. C. C. Miller and Mr. L. C. Dickenson were given the consolation prizes. At the close of the program, a delicious luncheon was served. Guests were Miss Black, Miss Moses, Messrs. Herald and Raymond Verbyke. The club will meet in a fortnight with Mrs. Basil.

Miss Fannie Hughes was one of the lovely hostesses who contributed to the enjoyment of the roster of young ladies who are friends of Miss Anne Furnas, a bride-to-be of the month, giving a dinner of handsome appointments Wednesday evening at her home. Red carnations and bride's roses carried out the color scheme in marking the places for the twelve guests. The bride's place was marked by a bouquet of pink roses and white sweet peas. In the center of the table, a graceful basket of red poinsettias added to the attractive scene. Enjoying the hospitality of Miss Hughes were Miss Furnas and her fiancé, Mr. William Tanner Mapel, of Columbus Grove; Miss Edith Simpson, Mr. Levi Reichelderfer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Horn, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Furnas, Miss Abbie Price, Mr. Homer Hughes and Mr. Bert Kelley.

Capt. Clifton M. Spears, in charge of the Philippine scouts, and stationed at Mendenano, Philippine Islands, was married, Thursday evening, to Miss Catharine Kinzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kinzer, of 308 north Pine street. The ceremony took place at 6:30 o'clock at the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. H. C. Schuster, pastor of the German Reformed church. The couple were accompanied by the bride's sister, Miss Anna Kinzer, and Mr. Emus Walker.

The bride wore a tailored gown of dark blue serge, with small hat to match. Capt. Spears was in the uniform of the United States Army. Miss Kinzer, the attendant, wore a tailored suit of black.

The bridal party returned to the Kinzer home on north Pine street, following the ceremony, where a wedding dinner of six courses was served to about 25 friends and relatives. The decorations at the home consisted of pink sweet peas and bride's roses and the American flag was brought out in a deft armouree. The bride carried the wedding cake with the sabre of Capt. Spears. For a time, some years ago, Capt. Spears was located in Lima, having in charge the recruiting office of the United States army. It was at this time that the friendship begun, was carried on under such favorable circumstances and resulted in the marriage of Thursday evening, notwithstanding land and ocean separated the couple.

Capt. Spears and his bride left Friday morning for an extended trip in the south. Upon their return they will visit with relatives in the States until the latter part of March, when they will leave for San Francisco, Cal. They will sail from that port on April 1th for the islands, where Capt. Spears will again take up his work at the military post.

With them go hundreds of good wishes for success in their future life, from many Lima friends.

M. A. Hanna Circle, Ladies of the Grand Army, held their installation of officers Monday evening in Memorial hall. Dr. George Hall, chief department commander of Ohio, was installing officer, serving in a line military manner. The following is the roster of officers: President, Mrs. Eva Gaulde, senior vice president, Mrs. Ella Thomas, junior vice president, Mrs. Bridget McCrate, treasurer, Mrs. Jennie Finley, secretary, Mrs. Virginia Hall; chaplain, Mrs. Martha Rallick, conductress, Mrs. Amy Lacy, assistant conductress, Mrs. Alice Sawmillard, guide, Mrs. Jennie Arthurnot. The circle is in splendid working order. At the next meeting, six applications for membership will be balloted upon.

One of the distinguished women visitors in Lima this autumn, was Mrs. Olaf Guldin, of Fort Wayne, who recently was chairman of the house economics department of the General Federation of Women's clubs and was here as a guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Business Woman's club to the president of clubs, the presiding officers of church societies, lodges and organizations. She made a deep impression upon many of the women who heard her and undoubtedly they will be interested in knowing that she was the guest of honor and principal speaker at the House Economics conference held in Boston recently.

She said that through the inspiration of such women as Mrs. Ellen Richards and Dean Arnold and other women of the east, the interest in home economics, which seemed so slight at one time that the advising of it was continued on the list of minor things, has been revived and made a most uplifting influence. She said she liked to think that home economics was the foundation on which civilization is to be built, that through a knowledge of it, one's standards of life are elevated, homes made more artistic and convenient, one's manner of living simpler and one's attitude toward life more genuine; less be one of social importance. Flowing money will be wasted in improper frocks, dress will not be subject to sponsor to roll call and members of the second division will furnish the program.

The actual work in the house, she said, may be greatly simplified by cutting out the non-essentials, and by installing up-to-date machinery the work would be so lightened that the rest of living would not only be reduced, but the servant question solved. She said that many states were trying to increase the study of home economics by placing books on the subject in public libraries, holding conferences and sending pamphlets treating of different branches of the subject to women. With the appointment of Mr. Thomas P. Keville to the position of telephone attendant in the House of Representatives at Columbus, during the session of the present general assembly, it is likely Mr. Keville and his bride, who before her marriage was Miss Alma McBride, will go to Columbus to reside a portion of the year, at least. They will probably be away from Lima until early in the spring or at least, during the session of the general assembly.

The Pi Delta Kappa Sorority at Miami University, has been granted a charter by the national society, Chi Omega. Initiation was held Friday, January 3. Miss Ruth Cancron and Miss Helen Bowman are Lima members of the sorority at Miami.

Mrs. Emma Bowersock, of 433 west North street, and Mr. Harry Spangenberg were united in marriage Monday forenoon at the hour of 10 o'clock. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride on west North street and was performed by Rev. J. B. Bovey, of the United Brethren church.

Following the serving of a wedding dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Spangenberg left for a trip to Cincinnati and New Orleans. En route home they will stop in Chicago and St. Louis.

Mr. Spangenberg recently came here from New York, being employed as ladies' tailor at the Massman Dry Cleaning company. His bride is a seamstress. After January 1st, he and his bride will be at home to their friends in Lima at 839 west North street.

Dr. and Mrs. B. A. Long have returned from a trip of a month in Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Roby Otter Leighton has arrived from New York City for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Otter, of west Market street. She will remain until May while her husband, Ensign Frank Leighton, is cruising in southern waters.

Mrs. J. H. Upp, of south Collett street, is visiting in Chicago.

Mrs. W. U. Hoover, Dr. S. F. Hiner, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Dille, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Hoover, Mr. Hillary Napier, Mr. L. W. Watt, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lippincott, Mrs. M. J. Scott, Mrs. Mary Anderson, of Bellefontaine, Miss Hazel Hoover, Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Hoover, Master Joseph Dille, Miss Mary Dille and Miss Maggie Keller formed a party which left Wednesday afternoon for Sarasota, Holeno Beach, Florida, where they will spend the remaining winter months. All have their homes in Sarasota, which is located on the western coast of the peninsula. Here they go annually to pass the winter months, under sunny skies and amid the warm ocean breezes. Fishing is the principal sport, although hunting forms pleasant amusement. The party left at four o'clock by way of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad. Messrs. Clair Hoover, Richard Jones and Lee Corwin, who were returning to Tennessee Military Institute at Sweetwater, Tenn., accompanied the party as far as Chattanooga.

Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Cunningham and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Hiner left Tuesday evening for New York City, where they will pass a week in the metropolis. Later on, they will sail for Panama, expecting to do the work of construction on the big canal. The will go to San Francisco, Calif., after concluding their stay in Panama and spend some time in that balmy country. They will be absent two or three months.

Miss Helen Kerr and her guest, Miss Florence Cushman, of Detroit, Mich., who is also her room-mate at Mount Vernon seminary, returned to their school duties in Washington, Wednesday.

Miss Nora Sprague left Wednesday for Oxford, where she will resume her studies at the Western College for Women.

Mrs. S. G. Blatner and children, of Erie avenue, have returned from a holiday visit with relatives in Cincinnati.

The annual social and business meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the Spring Street Lutheran church was held Wednesday evening at the church. The ladies had treated the brotherhood of the church to share with them the hospitality and a crowd of 100 or more attended. The business of the evening was first transacted with, all the old officers being re-elected, save Mrs. J. J. King, who is just recovering from a serious illness. She was therefore given a year's needed rest and was tendered a hearty vote of thanks for her splendid work.

The list of officers is as follows: President, Mrs. S. A. Dazzi, vice president, Mrs. S. Schider, secretary, Mrs. G. Moyer, treasurer, Mrs. H. L. Moyer.

The program rendered consisted of a duet by the Finley sisters, a piano solo by Mrs. Lela Baker, a piano number by Miss Lucile Burkhardt and readings by Mrs. B. L. Moyer. Rev. G. C. Schaub, the pastor, delivered a short address. Refreshments were served in the basement, closing the delightful evening.

An announcement which has been the cause for congratulations and good wishes was that of the marriage of Miss Effie McGahan of 228 South Elizabeth street and Mr. Orvan Ireland, which took place on Saturday, December 28, in Monroe, Mich. The young people secured a day's leave of absence and went to Toledo, hastening to Monroe, Mich., where the ceremony was performed.

The home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. Mr. Burns of the Presbyterian church, was the scene of the ceremony. They returned to Lima in the evening and decided to keep their marriage a secret. The news only became known Thursday. Miss McGahan has been an employee of the Bell telephone company for nearly two years past, at the present time being assistant chief operator. She numbers her friends by the score.

Mr. Ireland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Ireland of Van Wert. For some time he has been employed as agent for the Ohio Electric Railway company, first in the capacity of night agent and power operator at New Haven, Ind., only recently being transferred to Leipsic, where he is serving as day agent and power operator.

The bride will retain her position with the telephone company until in June, when she will join her husband and they will make their home in Leipsic.

The following handsomely engraved cards have been sent out and a number have been received in Lima. The Columbus Inaugural Association requests the pleasure of your company at the Inaugural ball.

In honor of Governor James M. Cox, the state officials and members of the General Assembly at the Memorial building, east Broad street, Monday evening, January thirteenth, nineteen hundred and thirteen, nine o'clock.

R. S. V. P. Cards of admission engraved are as follows:

Inaugural ball
Honorable James M. Cox
Governor of Ohio
Monday evening, January thirteenth, Memorial building

Admit bearer. Not transferable. Frank R. Vance, of Columbus, is chairman of the invitation committee and the cards admit either one gentleman and a lady, or two ladies or just one gentleman.

Members of the Women's Music club will deeply sympathize with Mrs. Charles H. Sterling of Columbus Grove in the going away of her husband, which occurred at an early hour Sunday morning. Mrs. Sterling has been an associate member of the club some years and is a very gifted woman. The daughters, Mrs. Lenore Sterling Berg and Alice Sterling, are both gifted musically. Both Mrs. Berg and Miss Sterling are well known in Lima and very much admired for their musical gifts. Miss Sterling is a pupil of Prof. Harold Adams.

The Women's Bridge club will be entertained next Monday afternoon by Mrs. George Carter of west Market street. The luncheon will be followed by the usual game of cards.

Among the many clubs of interest in Lima and which is doing such noble work in behalf of pure womanhood, there is none stands out so boldly as does the Girls Social Service Club. Composed of young ladies active in social life and leaders in whatever church work or home department they may seek to cast their lot, it is indeed a fitting tribute to them to note their homage to their less fortunate sisters. The club grew out of the meetings held in Lima by Rev. William A. Sunday and no one can measure the good accomplished, neither can the work of the club be fully estimated, so broad has been its features.

The young ladies were first organized into a Bible class by Miss Frances Miller, one of the Sunday workers. Mrs. H. M. Crawford was the first president and the club pursued the Bible study, although desirous of doing something for somebody else.

With the coming of Mrs. M. B. Fuller to Lima in 1912, she saw in this class an opportunity for the accomplishment of a great work. Reorganization was recommended, all members joining the class and voting their assistance. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Howard Fletcher, president; Miss Stella Pennell, vice president; Miss Pauline Hughes, treasurer; Miss Hazel Pennell, secretary; Miss Alice McDonald, press and advertising agent; Mrs. M. B. Fuller, Mrs. Harry Strickland, Miss June Justus and Miss Bertha Borges, as members of the board of managers.

The name was changed to the Social Service club. This name was selected that it might speak for itself and give some idea of just what the club was trying to accomplish. Bible study is continued every Monday afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. building, under the direction of the different pastors of the city.

A trained worker was engaged in the person of Miss Starbird of the Cincinnati Training School for housewives, into whose hands the work was placed. The Business Woman's club made this action possible by agreeing to board the city worker.

LOTUS LAND DELIGHTFUL

Lima Girl Gives Her Impressions of Sunny Japan.

IN QUARANTINE WITH SHIP MATES.

Idolatrous Practice is Described in Vivid American Terms.

A series of letters written by Miss Grace McClurg, who is now in a mission school in the Orient, have been received by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. McClurg, of 602 South McCull street, Lima.

These letters will appear at various times in The Times-Democrat.

Thanksgiving Morning, Yokohama Harbor, S. S. Manchuria.

My Dear Folks:

There is one tumultuous thought which lies uppermost: You just ought to be along. I despair of giving you any idea of yesterday. Our boat was at anchor early, and we were called for inspection before breakfast. All the steerage and crew were lined up as I told you before, and competent looking Japanese doctors came along, feeling the pulse of each one while looking each in the eyes. Quickly done. We cabin folks were called to the dining room, to our own seats, and counted there. Even that failed to get everyone without a good deal of trouble. I imagine the ship doctor would have given a good deal to hustle some of us as he does the others. All vessels are "in quarantine" until after this examination, in most ports. The harbor here being shallow, our boat anchored out a distance, and we were ferried in by small launches. A small platform, like a shelf, is braced up on the deck edge, and two long flights of stairs are suspended along the wall of the ship, leading down from the platform to the launch. We hurried down the steep steps, glad to get back to the world of a launch again. Some of the missionaries met us, Myrtle Pider among them. The customs officers rifled the little grip I carried and put his O. K. on it. Myrtle and I took a short walk and from her I learned to say to the importunate ricksha men, "Erymaseen" (I do not need you), but in time we took our ride. Oh, you can't imagine what sport it was! The rickshas are a much lighter vehicle than I had supposed; not one bit more labor than needed, and the wheels are like very light weight race car wheels. The coolies pulling them dress very thinly in kimono coats and girths. You get into the seat, the man tucks you in with a lap robe, gets into the shafts, and off he trots, a peculiar jog-trot that gets you right along. I wonder how far they could run that way.

Tokyo and Yokohama have much that is foreign, making remarkable contrasts.

Along by some boy pulling a small delivery cart, or a man pushing a large two-wheeled cart loaded with bales of stuff, goes the up-to-date delivery auto. The touring cars are side by side with the rickshas. Some Japanese men wear American clothes, while their wives dress in native costumes. The men can dress cheaper so than in their own costumes. In putting on the foreign costume sometimes the men get ridiculous contrivances—a silk plug hat, the fine silk flowing top, robe of the aristocrat, and their underwear for trousers. Children strapped to the backs of their mothers, or older brothers or sisters were a never ending interest. One mother with a baby about 18 months old happened to sit by me in a street car, and Mr. Jap, Jr., made no little fuss about sitting there; he was afraid of me. The dinky little street cars are jammed full all the time; worse than any south Halsead street car I was ever on. Of course we were the foreigners, and rather enjoyed being stared at, especially by the children up at the temple, where a great number of dirty, diseased littleurchins stood around, each with the baby burden on his back, following our every move. Last night two men, students by their dress, got on the car we had taken, and one asked the other (so Myrtle said), "Are they women?" Their own women do not wear hats, and with our plain ones and plain cut coats, the young men, probably just in from the country, didn't know sure whether we were men or women.

English Prevalence.

One thing which was a big surprise to me was the prevalence of English everywhere. Almost every store in the port towns has its English speaking clerks. Everywhere one reads signs put up in English and Japanese; for instance, "Smoking prohibited," "Cuttings and shavings" (a barber shop, if you please), "Bilk store," etc. Wayside stations have the name written in English beneath the characters for the name of the place. Why, even the train tickets are printed on one side in English. On one car we met a man who volunteered a little information, and at our "thank you," felt himself at liberty to talk in general, and seemed lightly complimented when we understood his English. Hearing the native tongue so much makes me green with envy of those missionaries who already speak the foreign language. Am very eager to get to studying it, even if it is hard. Especially does one feel a need for the language when seeing the worshippers at the temple.

Perhaps that is the first "experience" I will relate. We went up to Asakusa Buddhist temple, to which there is a constant stream of people going to worship. I cannot tell you all about it, except that it is very large, with several hideous idols all around, idols supposed to be favorable to strength, children, prayers, etc. One is never supposed to make a prayer without first making an offering. For a quarter of a mile the street leading to the temple was lined with stores selling all kinds of things, from handfuls of beans to toys and clothing, to be used as offerings to the idols. In the temple we found places on the "altar rail," where some poor persons had placed small amounts of rice, the offering of a

and twice we saw two little grains of rice placed together, the most perhaps that some poor widow could bring. The usual gift, however, is money. A space as big as the platform inside of our churches at home, before the chief idol, is fixed like the cowards of a railway crossing. A coin tossed above is sure to fall between the slats and drop into the treasury beneath. In the short time we were there, dozens of men and women came in, threw their coins up into the air before the idol, pressed their hands together, touching their foreheads, and mumbled a few words of a set prayer. This they did three times, once before the huge mirror, the symbol of purity; once to the jewel, a symbol of value; and once to the sword, power. Some came and went quickly, never closing their eyes, and scarcely bowing. Others were more in earnest, while some prostrated themselves a long time. We knew they must be in trouble, praying for a wayward child, some sick person, or some other distress. It makes your heart ache to see it so—these care-burdened men and women trying to relieve their hearts before a wooden idol. It is then we feel our mighty privilege in being able to cast our burdens on Christ. One old woman had paid a big price for a priest had come out in front and was praying with her. Each had a bell, ringing it in a wild time, along with a wailing chant, while shaking a string of beads with the other hand. The bell was to call out the spirits to hear the prayer. It was a poor old lady, and Myrtle said she had probably spent the savings of years for that one attention from the priest. They are wicked old fellows, with the hardest faces, and 1,800 in Tokyo alone. Do you say that Japan is practically a Christian nation? That the men have forsaken the idol worship? Hardly. Surely not as long as the women have such unresponsive, unhappy faces. Some of the children and young women (girls of thirteen or fourteen) had the sweetest, most innocent faces you could see anywhere, but I do not remember an older face to have a happy look. So much for that.

A Regular Lark.

We had a regular lark at noon. Two of us, were in charge of two friends who decided to give us a regular Japanese lunch. So we went to a "restaurant" where we sat down on a low step by the sidewalk and took off our shoes. A big wooden slab was our check for them. We went over a cold floor in our stocking feet, up a spotless stairway, across some more polished boards, to where several little Japanese women were sitting on the floor. They rose, bowed profusely, and one conducted us to a cozy little room with sliding doors and walls made of a fibre cloth and bamboo. There was matting on the floor, but no decorations. Myrtle said we wanted a "gyunabe." So the little lady went bowing out and brought back four floor pillows, on which we sat while there.

Our wraps were put on the floor, along the wall. There were two little doll tables in the room, and two of us sat at a table. Our hostess, for so she seemed, brought us two little charcoal stoves, with a small, round, iron pan, less than an inch deep, with no cover to cook our meal in. I will try to tell you what she gave us to cook. Cabbage leaves (small pieces), slices of onion; tufa, a pudgy stuff which belongs neither to the vegetable, animal or mineral kingdom, that I could not make out; one little round flowered something, made of flour; mushrooms, just a few; water which may have been tea by its looks; a plate of very thinly sliced beef; and bowls of "goan," this last being the flavor with which all the other was cooked. It was put into the pans as we would put in grease, water added, and the vegetables put in leaf at a time. With our chop sticks we poked the vegetables around, making room for more as fast as we could get the first wilted. After a while we put in strips of meat, and ate it as soon as cooked, for it got done quickly. Now besides the above, the little lady gave each of us a big lacquer dish of rice, and each of us a little tiny bowl to eat it out of. Then there were half a dozen other bits of food, little dabs of this, that and what not, to be eaten as relish or dessert. You couldn't plan a more ideal. You party. We filled our bowls with rice, put some hot "gyunabe" on top, and ate while more cooked. We had appetites and chopsticks. I do not know how we could have managed the latter but for the former. When we wanted something else, one of our girls clapped her hands three times, and the maids without answered with a peculiar sound. Our waitress came in, bowed, knelt, inquired our need, smiled, bowed, backed out and soon came in with what "we" ordered.

Custom of Bowing.

The endless bowing is perfectly fascinating. You go into a shop or anywhere, and get it every move you make. The ricksha man makes a deep bow, with a swide sweep of his queer hat, when offering your honorable person his most unworthy service. The thing that tickles me most of all is the way they scrape and bow and smile, when at the journey's end, and tell you you haven't paid them enough. You have given them more than you bargained in the beginning, but with the most profuse politeness they insist that you owe them some more. You just walk away.

Quarters Comfortable.

We girls were at the mission home with Myrtle for dinner. As it was after dark when we got there, and no time to go about the buildings in the compound, there is not much to say of the home, except that the quarters are comfortable and homelike, and we had a good time, and an excellent dinner, doubly appreciated by us visitors. About eight we started back to the station. An hour later, and the girls had put Caroline and I on the train for Yokohama. Oh, I wish you would have been there! Imagine several Kibby cars in poor condition, hitched together on a narrow gauge road, with a small engine, and you will have a train superior to ours. In our coach were two men and a husband and wife. All went to sleep, of course, some shuffling off their sandals and sitting on their feet. It is hard for them to sit as we do. About ten we pulled into Yokohama. We two lone girls hurried through the station like we would in Chicago, got our junk-rickshas, as we would have a bus at home, saying, "Hatoba, Manchuria hatoba" (Wharf, Manchuria Wharf), and away we went, the men running the whole mile. We laughed the whole way at the novelty of it all, and the anxiety which would be at home if you knew but couldn't see. There we went through the long moonlight streets, sometimes for blocks with no one out but ourselves. Deserted, yet safer by far than on a street car at home at that time. Absolutely no danger, for the coolies are thoroughly trustworthy when at work. We made good connections with a launch and got to the boat, ending one of the most delightful days I have ever spent.

Here I have been writing all morning and now it is lunch time. There are many, many things for which I am thankful, but for nothing than that I am on my way to China. I like Japan but do not want to stop there. It is hard to quit writing. God keep you. Love to all. From GRACE.

Cut the High Cost of Living.

W. H. Chapman, Winnebago, Neb., tells how he did it. "My two children had a very bad cough and the doctor's medicines did them no good. I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and before it was all used the children were free and cured of their cough. I saved a doctor's bill for one 25c bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound." No epistles. M. M. Keltner.

INSTALLATION OF NEW OFFICERS.

The Independent Order of Foresters, of Court Allen No. 2452, will install their officers on Tuesday evening, January 14th, in Donze hall. Let all members be present. The High Chief Ranger W. H. Miller of Dayton, will be with us and do the installing.

A cordial invitation is extended to all Foresters.

MRS. DELMA WILLIAMS, Recording Secretary.

Hints for Housekeepers.

Keep Foley's Honey and Tar Compound always on hand, and you can quickly head off a cold by its prompt use. It contains no opiates, heals and soothes the inflamed air passages, stops the cough, and may save a big doctor's bill. In the yellow package. M. M. Keltner.

STRONG IN COUNTY JAIL

Alleged Degenerate Bound Over to Grand Jury This Morning.

ENTERED PLEA OF NOT GUILTY.

Names of Witnesses Have Been Turned Over to the Prosecutor.

Austin Strong, the alleged degenerate arrested by the police yesterday afternoon at the instance of Mrs. Lulu Thurston, of 418 north Pierce street, was arraigned before Mayor Shook on a statutory charge this morning. He entered a plea of not guilty, waived the preliminary examination, and was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $500 bond. Unable to furnish bond, Strong was committed to the county jail to await the action of the grand jury.

Strong evinced the same unconcern when arraigned before the mayor this morning as he has shown ever since his arrest yesterday. Either he fails to realize the enormity of the offense charged against him, or he has implicit confidence in his ability to prove his innocence when he is brought to trial. He had no comment to make on his arrest and took little interest in the proceedings in which he was the central figure.

Strong was arrested by Patrolman Wingle yesterday afternoon after Mrs. Thurston had acquainted Chief Vermillion with the particulars of a shocking story told her by her son, Robert, aged nine. He was identified by the lad as the man who was wanted after being brought to police station yesterday afternoon.

Police were busy yesterday afternoon rounding up witnesses to testify against the accused man when his case comes up before the grand jury. Most of these witnesses are lads of about the same age as the Thurston boy. These names will be turned over to the prosecuting attorney at once.

When You Buy Seed Corn Buy the New Variety CONNERS PROLIFIC

It yielded 1.0 bushels to the acre last summer and we have the proof for it.

We expect to be able to demonstrate next summer that it will produce 2.00 bushels to the acre.

Did You See it at the Corn Show?

The grain is white, the ears average 12 inches in length, three and four of them to the stalk. The stalks grow to nine and twelve feet in height. It makes ideal ensilage.

The Farm and Fireside investigated this new variety, and here is what it has to say about it.

LAST YEAR.
"Six ears to the stalk were not uncommon and only in a few cases was the stalk less than two to the stalk. The ears and four ears was the general rule. An exceptional yield from one kernel was eight ears from one stalk. It was also twelve days earlier than the average dent corn. His (Harvest) yield this year was one hundred and fifty bushels of shelled corn to the acre on a field which last year made fifty bushels of Reid's Yellow Dent Corn."

The soil which is good black loam, is prepared in the same manner both years and the corn checked in hills three feet six inches both ways. (Issue of January 4, 1913). We have for disposal all the first class seed produced by Mr. Conner during the past year, and every grain of it is absolutely pure, and each ear has been selected with great care, under the personal direction of Mr. Conner.

We are selling it at $15 a bushel, $8.50 a half bushel, $5 a peck, 10¢ a quart, 5¢ a pint, 2¢ a half pint, 1¢ a quarter pint, 1¢ a half ounce, 1¢ a quarter ounce.

You had better send in your order now.

Where, oh, where is Alice?
And Flora?
And Bertha?
And Anna?
And Cornelia?
And Dell?

And a dozen others of attractive feminine names?

Why, every one of these fascinating beauties is a town in Ohio. If you look into a copy of the Ohio Almanac you will learn about these towns, as well as about 100,000 other things concerning Ohio.

This handy Almanac of ours gives the name of every village and city in Ohio, with county, railroad as to, telephone connection and mail service.

OUR OHIO ALMANAC prints so much good stuff that the index alone would fill half of this page. Here are some of the things you will find in this Handbook of Information:

State, city and county officials, city and village population, elevations, location, farm and manufacturing statistics, laws, and other laws, military history of Ohio, climate in detail for fifty years—and thousands and thousands of other things.

When you get a copy of our Ohio Almanac you will find it just like your right hand—indispensable.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Mrs. M. B. Fuller, Mrs. H. M. Crawford, Mrs. Lucille Albrecht Horn, Misses Audrie Akerman, Cora Baker, Edna Bassler, Bertha Borges, Fannie Hughes, Florence Moore, Lucille Orchard, Effie Oliphant, Mary Phillips, Marie Robinson, Anna Wilhelm, Dorothy Downing, Harrie Kelly, Hazel and Stella Pennell, Alice McDonald, Edith Simpson, Margery Borges, Elizabeth Newson, Irma Deakin, Wessie Baker, Layola Hartman, Jean Stoner, Evalott Young, Gail Haines, Ada Schermerhorn, Ethel Cable, Evelyn Davison, Alice Stockton, Amy Wright, Frieda Ottoman, Lucy Pearson, Iris Cason, Mrs. Greenleaf, Mrs. Bowen, Mrs. Strickland, Mrs. Lillian Wyker Bennett, Mrs. Eleanor June Rowland and Mrs. Miller Laudick.

Mrs. A. O. Hotchkiss and Mrs. G. E. Winemiller delightfully entertained about thirty-five guests Thursday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Hotchkiss on north Washington street. The pleasant affair was arranged in honor of Mrs. Winemiller's mother, Mrs. A. J. March of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Mrs. Hotchkiss' guest, Mrs. R. K. Hester of Los Angeles.

The afternoon was spent in needlework and at five o'clock a delicious luncheon of three courses was served. Color scheme of pink and white was effectively used. Assisting the hostess were Miss Frances Wright and Miss Katherine Furman.

The guest list included Mrs. C. E. Miller and her guest, Miss Shuey of Bradford, Pa., Mrs. A. T. Macdonell and her sister, Miss Macdonell of Toller, N. Y., Mrs. F. A. Elliot, Mrs. J. E. Sullivan, Mrs. W. L. Parmenter, Mrs. F. B. Lewis, Mrs. R. I. Plate, Mrs. J. K. Baumbach, Mrs. Chambers, Mrs. M. C. King, Mrs. Harry Wright, Mrs. Samuel Craig, Mrs. W. C. Winemiller, Mrs. I. E. Clayton, Mrs. G. E. Robinson, Mrs. D. W. Morris, Mrs. Henry Deisel, Mrs. Charles Crispin, Mrs. R. M. Brittain, Mrs. T. N. Cunningham, Mrs. N. W. Hiner, Mrs. C. E. Thomas, Mrs. J. R. Longworth, Mrs. W. D. Hoffer, Mrs. E. M. Stradley, Mrs. J. R. Melly and Mrs. F. A. Thomas.

The meeting of the Sorosis club, Monday afternoon, with Mrs. E. B. Ogilvie, of west Spring street, was devoted wholly to a social session. The regular program was dispensed with. The hostess served a splendid luncheon. The club will meet in a fortnight with Mrs. McKlincy, of west North street.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilma Hockadorn, of Indianapolis, Ind., are in the city, having come to visit with Mr. Hockadorn's aged mother, who lives on west Market street, and who is not in the best of health.

Mrs. S. A. Morris, of west Market street, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Marvel Wells, of Columbus, the former of whom is a brother. While in that city, she is enjoying the meetings held by Rev. William A. Sunday.

Beautiful in all its appointments was the birthday party on Miss Bertha M. Zulliger, when she was cleverly surprised on Friday evening by a number of her near friends in honor of the anniversary.

The evening was delightfully spent in many sorts of amusements, singing, violin solos, as well as instrumental music and social chat, but the most merriment was contributed when the hostess was required to open a huge box, containing nineteen miscellaneous jokes.

Later in the evening, the guests were invited to the dining room, and partook of a bounteous supper, the room being prettily decorated for the occasion. Streamers of pink and white were suspended through the room and caught in a large bow in the centre. In the centre of the table, stood a large basket of flowers, and the Misses Clara Zulliger and Margaret Schlegel, gowned in white, served the three-course supper, the menu of which was as follows:

- Hot Rolls
- Baked Beans
- Olives
- Pickles
- Banana Salad
- Hot Chocolate
- Whipped Cream over
- Strawberry Cream
- Ornamented Cake
- Mints
- Salted Nuts

Those participating were Misses Ella Mohr, Grace Cleveland, Bertha Braun, Laura Bateson, Clara Braun, Phoebe Welker, Margaret Schlegel, Hilda Braun, Clara Zulliger, and the hostess, Messrs. Franklin Knerr, Ralph Wheeler, Herman Kuehler, Joseph Rhoda, Robert Baker, Ludwig Christian, Herman Wagner, Carl Redderson, Frederick Zulliger, Mrs. Frank Hentze and children, Mrs. Wm Steigerwald and Mrs. Daniel Zulliger.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mackenzie, of west Market street, will have the members of the T and T club with them, Friday evening, for dinner, followed by the program as outlined in the year-book.

Mrs. O. S. June, of west North street, will entertain the Auditorium here next Friday afternoon, at her home.

The Ladies' Catholic Benevolent Association of St. Rose church, has planned a colonial party for Monday evening, when officers will be installed, to be followed by a program and supper. The older members of the society will be in charge. St. Rose auditorium will be utilized on this occasion and the hour is set for 7:30 o'clock.

Members of the Missionary society of the First Baptist church enjoyed a delightful afternoon Friday, when at the meeting with Mrs. Rebecca

Mrs. Hotchkiss

Examine the pictures carefully and you'll find that Mr. McCarty, box-fighter and cow-person, is doubling as James J. Jeffries and Kid McCoy. McCarty on the horse has the round, solid jaw, and the rather flat face—apologies here being offered both Jeffries and McCarty—and even the slight stoop that characterized the on-time heavyweight champion. McCarty, with the knitted cap of commerce on his head, and a white collar and a silk tie, and a dew-damp gleam on his face, looks for all the world like Kid McCoy. Close friends of either of the ex-fighters might forgive themselves for being mistaken on the first glimpse of these photographs.

Taking up the picture to the left, try to imagine Jeffries wearing a horse. If he wouldn't look as much like Luther McCarty as McCarty does himself, then there's something wrong with the lens. McCarty's jaw—built like the bow of a battleship—jut's out in the good old Jeffries way. His face is square and flat, and his nose somewhat mashed in at the bridge. He has the same brooding, almost sullen, air about him that Jeffries carries, and his lips are bitten together in a manner to remind one irresistibly of the Lancaster

Andrews, Mrs. N. W. Cunningham, of Bluffton, told of her trip abroad.

Miss Yvonne Ebersole presided at a tea, Friday afternoon, honoring Miss Furnas. Beneath a huge cake, gifts had been hidden, and when the bride-elect endeavored to cut the cake she was surprised to find she had been honored with a shower of pretty articles. The decorations were pink and white. The big cake was tied with tulle. Guests were Miss Furnas, Miss Edith Simpson, Miss Fannie Hughes, Miss Abbie Price, Miss Ethel Cable, Miss Marie Robinson, Miss Ida Ebersole, Mrs. H. M. Crawford, Mrs. Everett Furnas, Mrs. Paul Ashton, Mrs. Alfred Wenner, Mrs. Robert Horn and Miss Foreste Ireland.

Mrs. A. J. Martin, of Jamestown, N. Y., returned home after a three weeks' visit with her daughter, Mrs. G. F. Himmiller, on west High street.

Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Floeter, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Hotchkiss, left Sunday for a visit with relatives in Chatham, Ontario, Canada.

Messdames Almar Harris and Hosselman will be hostesses for the Floral Guild Wednesday afternoon. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Almar, 1918 west Wayne street.

Miss Hazel Jones left Wednesday to resume her studies at Western College, Oxford, O. She had as guests for the day, Miss Lois Craver, of Sheffield, Pa., and Miss Deane Wachtel, of Shreve, O., students of Western, also.

The Oneta club re-organized Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. J. Allen, of south Elizabeth street. The members devoted the time to needlework. Three new members were admitted to the club, they being Mrs. Stratton, Mrs. Stilson and Mrs. Dobbins. Mrs. Claude Fraumfelter was elected president and Mrs. L. Deikman, secretary. A delicious luncheon was served at the close of the afternoon.

The Missionary society of the Market Street Presbyterian church will meet in the church parlors Wednesday at 2 o'clock. The following program will be given:

- Devotional exercises.
- Paper—"Greater China," Mrs. R. C. Eastman.
- Vocal Solo—Mrs. H. A. Strickland.
- Paper—"Religion of China," Mrs. John R. Thompson.
- Piano Solo—Mrs. Waldo Berryman.
- Address—"A Plea for China," Mrs. Thomas Knox.

Refreshments will be served and a social hour will follow. Pledges for China will be taken at this meeting, which will be in charge of this committee, Mrs. Jere Robinson, Mrs. J. E. Ritchie, Mrs. W. S. Pierce, Mrs. John Phillips. A most cordial invitation is extended to all the ladies of the church.

Mrs. C. E. Loser entertained at one of the most delightful meetings of the year, Friday afternoon, being hostess for the Domestic Science club.

Mrs. Earl Winemiller opened her home Tuesday afternoon, for the meeting of the Progressives. She was assisted by Mrs. W. L. Rogers.

E. G. CHRISTEN LAID UP WITH BAD HAND.

Infected Member Badly Swollen and Must Be Handled With Extreme Care.

Mr. E. G. Christen, the paying teller of the First National bank, has been off duty for the past several days with a very sore and badly swollen hand. He is suffering with a bad case of infection which seems to have caused the poisoning of the entire member, and disables him to the extent that he cannot attend to his duties at the bank, though he is able to be around town.

Mr. Christen had a slight case of eczema on this hand, and in it being but of slight consequence in itself, he paid little attention to it. However, in handling money in great quantities and of all degrees of cleanliness, as he does in his official capacity at the bank, the afflicted member became infected.

BOLD SAILOR IS HONORED

Captain Raold Amundsen, Who Discovered the South Pole

IS HERO OF HOUR IN THE METROPOLIS.

Rear Admiral Peary to Preside at Banquet to be Held Tonight.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Captain Raold Amundsen, discoverer of the South pole, was conferred today with an award of affairs in his honor. Tonight a special gold medal is to be presented to him by the National Geographic society. Introduction to Norwegian minister was the first event on Captain Amundsen's program. He was given a luncheon at the home of Gilbert Grosvenor, secretary of the Geographic society.

Tonight the annual banquet of the Geographic society will be given. Real Admiral Robert E. Peary

AN OVATION FOR KUNNOLD

Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra is Warmly Received.

THEATRE FILLED TO ITS CAPACITY.

Tribute of Silence Followed by Spontaneous Applause.

Dr. Ernest Kunwald and his Cincinnati Symphony orchestra of 82 musicians played at the Faurer opera house last night in a program which for intense interest and sensational delight has not been excelled in Lima. The Women's Music club brought the orchestra, the first symphony band to ever appear, to Lima. The success which attended their efforts proved conclusively that Lima appreciates their efforts in bringing good music to the city.

The orchestra last evening showed itself in the highest of real artistic achievement and its leader in the full stature of a master musician.

The program, with its spectacular opportunities, won the public completely. The last two movements of the "Pathétique" were applauded to the echo and the orchestra was called upon several times to show its appreciation and the leader was incessantly called back to his stand to receive an unmistakable ovation.

Every bit of the enthusiasm was deserved. Every conspicuous opportunity was proudly turned into moments of great achievement.

The "Pathétique" of Tschalkowsky was rendered in a masterly way. Nothing else is needed to convince of the genius of Dr. Kunwald than the deeply sympathetic and impressive method in which he directed this great master piece of post-Wagnerian days. Fitting dignity in the adagio and grandeur in the second movement but led the way to a superb display of concerted work in the vivacious scherzo, where strings and horns and woodwinds vied each other in impressive eloquence and to a memorable reading of the tremendous lament in the finale, quite the most expressive interpretation of this great movement ever heard in Lima.

The audience gave to the last strains the tribute of a silence as deep as one could ever experience in a concert hall. Then followed an outburst of applause that could leave the conductor in no doubt of their grateful attitude.

Dr. Kunwald announced that through a mistake the symphonic poem, "Les Preludes" had been left in Cincinnati and the brilliant Liszt music was omitted. Yet, if possible, the substitution was enjoyed, the numbers given being brought nearer the people.

Never has Lima had such fine music as this season and the Women's Music club has been the great factor in bringing to this city these artists to provide such lovely musical evenings. Starting with the most delightful contralto, Miss Christine Miller in October, then the famous young soprano of the Metropolitan Opera company, Madame Alda in November, in December the charming young opera singer, Miss Anna Buesert and last evening the first symphony orchestra which ever played in this city, places Lima in the foremost rank of cities whose people appreciate the very best there is in good music, and best of all other treats are to follow, for good things are to be given at each recital and two more distinguished artists are booked.

The audience, which completely filled the Faurer opera house, even the gallery being occupied, was one of the most brilliant and artistic which has ever graced any occasion in Lima. From the surrounding towns where the Music club has members, great parties came to enjoy the program.

Officers of the club and their husbands occupied the boxes. An intermission after half the program was completed, gave opportunity for friends to secure a little chat and at the same time, discuss the beautiful movements just heard.

DAILY SAVING PROPOSITION

The Only Way to Get Money to Burn Is to Stop Burning Now.

The expression "money to burn" is growing more common every day, and there are a lot of us that would like to be able to afford a bonfire of that kind ourselves. We can if we save. The daily saving is the plan. One great and good man who saved more money than he knew what to do with said, "Save your first hundred dollars and then it's easy."

Did you ever stop to think how much the shaving proposition costs? The man that gets shaved daily spends a dollar a week in money and more than that in time, so in a year he could easily put away his first hundred by self-shaving.

The Times-Democrat makes this daily saving plan possible by presenting the Very Sharp Self-Shaving Outfit, which consists of ten articles, complete and ready for immediate use. It does away with time and annoyance and assures a "clean" face every day by devoting a few moments to it in the morning during your daily ablution.

But there's only one way to get this outfit, and that is through the coupons printed daily in this paper. Clip today's coupon now.

MRS. WRIGHT PRESIDENT

Chosen Head of Woman Board of Managers of City Hospital.

BOARD EXTENDS MRS. MOKE THANKS

The Annual Report Shows a Great Amount of Progress Made.

The woman's board of managers of the city hospital has taken an inventory of what has been accomplished during the year just passed, and a remarkably busy and beneficial year it has been, thanks to the big-hearted generosity and sympathy these noble women possess.

Following is their annual report: Lima, O., Jan. 10, 1913.

The annual reception of the woman's board of our City hospital was held on January 2, though not so largely attended as last year owing doubtless to the fact that there were so many open houses on New Year's. Nevertheless it was most gratifying to the board for every guest was in their praise of our beautiful rooms and the improved conditions of the building. Certainly the board of 1912 have great reasons to be proud of their work of the year. We feel that great credit is due our retiring president, Mrs. Frank Moke, for her able management. Her plans were so sensible and practical, and so well brought out, that all committees, and every member of the board vied with each other in carrying them on to completion and it is with deep regret that we bring our plans and relations to a close. Still we look forward with pleasant anticipation to the coming year for the personnel of our new board is one that we can be justly proud of and we bespeak for the 1913 board the same hearty co-operation as before and we now want to thank the generous public for their support of our work.

The annual report of the woman's board of managers of the City hospital.
